2014

It's what you
can't see
that matters
most.

It's easy to see our attention to detail is like no other. But behind the scenes there is more taking place than what's displayed in the metal. With 30 years of experience we have made countless connections in and out of the industry. This allows us to have preference in our selection of high quality goods for our customers. These connections also aid in our support to continue the education of young artists in Pennsylvania and New York.

All of these intangibles, while remaining hidden to the naked eye, influence the final product. It's these imperceptible details working in harmony that allow us to provide the highest quality product with the best craftsmanship available.
