TWO THOUSAND FIFTEEN

MARC WILLIAMS GOLDSMITH LIMITED EDITION

Presenting The MWG Limited Edition Collection. Looking to acquire the same pieces for you and your sisters? Or a design to share with your bridesmaids or best friends? The MWG Limited Edition Collection is not mass produced and more affordable than our one of a kind designs.

After crafting jewelry for close to 35 years, we wanted to offer something new and unique. Each piece has a limited run and will be retired from production once the last piece in the series is sold. This will affect a piece's value over the coming years due to its limited availability. The beauty of the limited edition line is it allows you to get creative by designing a scenario that has meaning for you and those with whom you share the pieces. Of course, there is always the option of not sharing at all and just giving yourself a gift.

on the cover:
custom pendant with 3.37 ct diamond and .18 ct diamond custom earrings with .86 tcw diamonds

Similar to other limited editions in the art world, all pieces are numbered, stamped and archived. The original mold will be kept on hand for reproduction and repairs for the original purchasers or recipients only. Each limited edition design will be documented with descriptions of the processes and history of the goldsmiths involved with the piece's creation.

In the past, we only offered pieces that were line items or one of a kind. Our customers told us they would like another option. That led to the creation of our limited edition. The MWG Limited Edition puts no limits on who can own a great piece that is not mass produced. However, there is a limit on how long it will be available.

For more details, please refer to the MWG Limited Edition Collection on the inside of the back cover. Please keep in mind that there is a 3 week minimum turnaround time for jewelry production.
