One-of-a-kinds

Your one-of-a-kind pieces are created using a combination of techniques which are centuries old, as well as modern techniques interpreted in our style. We have the expertise of decades to help us bring your ideas to life.

“Thank you”

...to our loyal customers for your support over the last four decades. It has allowed us to refine our craft and hone our skills to bring you the best pieces possible, as well as work at something we truly enjoy. After 40 years, all signs point to the fact that things are moving towards more custom work. I see the direction we are heading at this point in my career, and embrace the gift to continue my craft. We are grateful our craftsmanship and design have stood the test of time. But this isn't about our legacy, it's about yours. Once a piece leaves our hands, it becomes your present and future story.

Limited Edition

These collectible pieces will last a lifetime but won't be available forever. Each one is numbered in a series and once the edition sells out, they are never crafted again. These pieces are built with the same integrity as all of our jewelry.

LE101/LE102 Limited Edition Oakish set with diamonds

LE116/LE117 Limited Edition Eden set with diamonds

Then

Now

When I started, it was barely post-Woodstock. There was an American Craft Movement at hand. Then, in the aftermath of that craft movement, there were only small groups of US craftsmen and artisans. Today, the movement has worked into more of a social experience and is enjoyed and experienced by almost everyone.

Art Craft

To me the difference is that art is more personal and emotional, where craft is more of a three-dimensional expression. It's a fine line, I know. I have been walking it for decades.

Construction

Mechanics

In constructing a piece of jewelry, not only do you need a great eye for artistic detail, but you need to have the hand-skill to execute sound mechanics.
